PAST, PRESENT, AND SHARED FUTURE

In this game, you'll see how well you know each other's history and hopes for the future! Grab some paper or a small white board, draw a line down the middle. At the top of each side write "me" and "you." For each question, write down what your answer is and what you think your partner's answer will be. Reveal them at the same time and see how many match!

1. Which sounds most like my ideal summer date: picnic, patio, dessert run, fireworks, or porch night?
2. Which sounds most like me in summer: road trip, lake day, beach day, small-town festival, or staycation?
3. Which treat would I choose first: pie, ice cream, brownies, cookies, or a root beer float?
4. Which kind of atmosphere do I most want our relationship to have: peaceful, joyful, adventurous, grounded, or fun?
5. Which American city or destination would I most want us to visit together someday?
6. Which kind of tradition would I most want us to create more of: holidays, travel, hosting people, quiet nights in, romantic nights out, or time outdoors?
7. Which value matters most to me in this season: gratitude, faithfulness, courage, peace, joy, or kindness?
8. Which word most describes me as a child: imaginative, shy, adventurous, mischievous, social, independent, or obedient?
9. Which sounds more like our next great date: baseball game, festival night, dessert stop, museum visit, or a sunset walk?
10. Which word best describes what I hope people feel when they are around us: warmth, fun, peace, honesty, support, generosity, or encouragement?
11. Who is one person whose example shaped the way you think about love, commitment, or family?
12. What is one value or tradition from your upbringing you hope we carry forward?
13. What is one memory from my childhood that still reminds you of what matters most?
14. What is one thing you appreciate about the life we are building together right now?
15. What is one small habit that would help us build a better future together?
